

May forgot how long the flight is, and sitting in that seat for thirteen hours made her want to cry. She felt awful when she came back, and her family complained that you spent money on the food, cause they prepared a feast for you, and what's better than hometown food?

Continue

May not how long the flight is, and sitting in that seat for thirty hours made her want to cry. She felt awful when she came back, and her family complainted that you spent money on the food, and that they prepared a feast for you, and what's better than homemade food?

continues

